

CHILDHOOD CANCER IS NOT RARE

Cancer remains the second leading cause of death in the United States — and the leading cause of death by disease for American children between infancy and age 15.